

CURRICULUM VITAE

Stéphane MARTINOT, born in 1964, married, one son

Professional address : Ecole Nationale Vétérinaire de Lyon (ENVL), 1 Av. Bourgelat – F-69280

Marcy L'Etoile

Education

1989 Degree in veterinary medicine at Ecole Nationale Vétérinaire de Lyon (France).

1990 Thesis for veterinary practice, Université Claude Bernard de Lyon (France).

1991 Master in “ Pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics of drugs”, Université Claude Bernard de Lyon (France)

1995 PhD Thesis, Université Claude Bernard de Lyon (France)

Professional positions

- 01.10.89 to 30.06.90 : Private practice in France
- 01.10.94 to 31.10.95 : Clinician at the ENVL (Equine reproduction).
- 31.10.95 to 30.03.98 : Assistant professor in the equine department of the ENVL
- 30.03.98 to 31.12.2004: Associate professor in the large animal department of the ENVL
- 01.01.2005 to 31.12.2009 : Dean of the Ecole Nationale Veterinaire de Lyon.
- 01.01.2010 - present : Dean of VetAgro Sup (Lyon) (New School for higher education created by the alliance of ENVL and Enita Clermont, with the mission of teaching and research in the topics of veterinary medicine and agronomic sciences.)

Other positions

- Member of the European College of Animal Reproduction (ECAR) and elected on the board (since 2006). Secretary of the college (2007 to 2010).
- Elected Vice president of the French board of schools for higher education in veterinary science and agronomic sciences (CDESA) (15 schools, the elected vice-president is the official representative of all the schools, the president is the French Minister of Agriculture) (since 2007).
- Member of the board of “Université de Lyon” (Université de Lyon is the alliance of the 25 universities and schools located in the area of Lyon. The board includes 9 members elected among the deans. The board is responsible for politics and strategic planning of all the members) (since 2008).
- Funding member of “VET 2011: World veterinary year” since 2008. Vice-president of the Management Council.

National activities on different positions

Clinician: in charge of equine reproduction inside the equine clinic of ENVL

Assistant professor: teaching responsibilities in equine reproduction and surgery (clinical and lectures) for students from undergraduate to graduate, interns and resident (reproduction) in the equine department. Assisting the department head in the overall administrative matters of the equine clinic.

Assistant professor: Vice chief in the large animal department, in charge of the development of bovine reproduction as a clinical support to teaching. Member of a research team on Biotechnology applied to animal Reproduction. Development of applied research projects granted by different companies in the field of bovine reproduction. Nominated by the dean to create and develop the continuous education office of the ENVL.

Dean of ENVL: Preparation of the evaluation process of the school by EAEVE and AVMA. Drafting and implementation of the 4 year strategic plan. Participation in the design of the new French curriculum for veterinary studies. Increasing the diversification of financial resources toward private funding to support the vast investment project engaged since 2006. Developing international connections with veterinary faculties in Europe, USA, and Asia. Directly responsible for 200 employees and a 20 million € annual budget. Active participation in the creation of “Université de Lyon” and on the elaboration of its strategic plan focusing on research and international relations. Leading in the creation of VetAgro Sup: structure, strategic plan and organization. As dean, I no longer have teaching and research responsibilities.

Dean of VetAgro Sup: Developing the strategic plan for increasing research and teaching programs, and international interactions. Directly responsible for a 28 million € annual budget and 300 employees and supported for the daily basis administration by two vice deans.

Vice president of CDESA: Relation with the French government for the strategic development of teaching and research in the relevant fields. Direct relations with the French Ministry of Agriculture. Representation of the schools on different national committees.

International Activities on different positions

Teacher in the ENVL: Coordinator for an international research project (Europe, Canada, USA) concerning equine tendonitis (24 months, meetings with vets from each countries, research meetings with scientist, responsible for the report).

Dean of ENVL: Member of a visiting team of AVMA as an observer (2007), member of the visiting team of the Vet faculty of Montreal (Canada) by the French veterinary statutory Body (2010), presentations about vet education given in Hanover (EAEVE GA, 2009) , Bologna (2010), and Roma (National conference of the Italian Statutory bodies, 2010). Member of the teachers’s selection committee for the Veterinary Faculty of Liège (Belgium)

Secretary of ECAR: Following the administrative affairs of the college, relations with diplomates and residents, organisation of annual exams and meetings, and developing a new web site. Attending the annual board meetings of EBVS and ACT (American College of Theriogenology). Preparing the board meetings and Annual General Assembly. Revision of the constitution and Bylaws. A new secretary will take the position during 2010.

Vice president of the management council for Vet 2011: Member of the steering committee for international conferences. President of the organising committee for the 2011 international conference on veterinary education in Lyon.