Dear Members of the European Association of Establishments for Veterinary Education (EAEVE),

I am honored to invite you to attend the European Board of Veterinary Specialisation (EBVS) Congress 2025, which will take place from April 2nd to 4th, 2025, in the vibrant city of Belgrade, Serbia. This landmark event marks a significant milestone in our shared mission to advance veterinary education and specialization across Europe.

As President of EBVS, I am excited to bring together key stakeholders, including esteemed officers from all EBVS Colleges, members of the Federation of Veterinarians of Europe (FVE), and representatives of EAEVE, for a productive and collaborative congress.

The congress program has been meticulously crafted to address a diverse range of pertinent topics, encompassing both the challenges and opportunities in veterinary education and specialization. Our esteemed Keynote Speakers will shed light on pivotal issues such as the evolving landscape of veterinary specialization from the perspective of colleges, the pivotal roles played by EAEVE and FVE in fostering excellence in our field, and the imperative engagement of our universities in Europe.

Furthermore, the congress will feature a series of enriching workshops designed to delve into crucial aspects of Governance, Finance and Business, Communication, IT Support, Wellbeing for students and graduate veterinarians, Credentialing, Education, and Examination. These interactive sessions will provide invaluable insights and best practices that are essential for advancing the standards and efficacy of veterinary education and specialization across Europe.

Given the challenges and opportunities faced in our field, we believe your participation will be invaluable. With ongoing discussions around modernization and flexibility in specialist education, this congress offers a unique opportunity for EAEVE to engage directly with other stakeholders, explore new solutions and debate the most interesting topics for shaping the future of veterinary education and specialization in Europe.
